Adv. Proc. No. 18-_____ (RDD)

ADVERSARY COMPLAINT

Plaintiffs The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, on behalf of the bankruptcy estate of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. and its affiliated debtors, and The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. and its affiliated debtors (collectively, "GAPT" or "Debtors"), (the Committee and GAPT being, hereafter, collectively, "Plaintiffs"), by their undersigned attorneys, hereby bring the following Complaint against defendants Pepsico, Inc. ("PepsiCo"); Frito-Lay North America, Inc. ("Frito-Lay"); Bottling Group, LLC (d/b/a Pepsi Beverages Company and f/d/b/a The Pepsi Bottling Group) ("Bottling Group"); Quaker Sales and Distribution, Inc. ("Quaker/Tropicana/Gatorade"); Muller Quaker Dairy, LLC ("Muller

Quaker”)’ Pepsi-Cola Metropolitan Bottling Company, Inc. (“Pepsi Metro”); Stacy’s Pita Chip Company, Inc. (“Stacy’s”), Pepsi Bottling Group, NJ (“Pepsi Group”), Pepsi USA, Pepsi-Cola Hasbrouck Heights (“Pepsi Hasbrouck”); Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company (“Pepsi Bottling”); and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Pennsauk (“Pepsi Pennsauk”) (collectively, “Defendants”), and avers as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. GAPT has been a venerable supermarket grocery store chain in the United States, with stores located throughout much of the United States, including in the States of New York and New Jersey. By April of 2015, the Debtors were facing substantial financial distress. That distress gave way to bankruptcy filings by the Debtors.

2. As their bankruptcy filings approached the Debtors continued operations. They continued to purchase goods from Defendants PepsiCo, Bottling Group, Frito-Lay, Pepsi Metro, Pepsi Hasbrouck, Pepsi Bottling and Pepsi Pennsauk (collectively, “Preference Defendants”)—as they had done in the past. Apparently sensing the financial distress in which the Debtors found themselves, however, and contrary to the policies underlying the Bankruptcy Code, the Preference Defendants pressed for quicker and quicker payment for goods by GAPT, tightening credit terms at least twice during the run-up to the GAPT bankruptcy filings. The Preference Defendants’ tactics worked; they received quicker, indeed preferential, payments from GAPT. By this Adversary Proceeding, the Committee now seeks to recover those preferential payments on behalf of the GAPT bankruptcy estate.

3. For many years, GAPT participated in promotions conducted by Defendants PepsiCo; Pepsi USA; Bottling Group, Frito-Lay, Quaker/Tropicana/Gatorade, Pepsi Metro, Stacy's, Pepsi Hasbrouck, Pepsi Bottling; Pepsi Group and Muller Quaker (collectively, "Promotion Defendants"). Those promotions continued during the run-up to the GAPT bankruptcy filing and after the filing until the last of the GAPT stores were closed. Notwithstanding continued participation in those Promotions even after the bankruptcy filing and the commencement of a post-filing store-closing process, the Promotion Defendants have failed to pay GAPT the sum of $7,416,804.92 (less any offsets or credits to which they show themselves entitled) they owe with respect to Promotions. By this adversary proceeding, GAPT now also seeks to recover the payments to which its participation in the Promotions entitles it.

Code, and the common law of express and implied contract, unjust enrichment and promissory estoppel.

FACTS

A. Case Background.

26. On July 19, 2015 (the “Petition Date”), each of the Debtors filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors have continued to operate their businesses and manage their properties as debtors-in-possession pursuant to §§ 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in these cases.

27. The Debtors’ Chapter 11 Cases are jointly administered under Case No. 15-23007 (RDD).

B. Facts Generally Relevant to the Preference Counts of this Complaint

28. GAPT is one of the nation’s oldest retailers. GAPT’s primary retail operations consisted of supermarkets operated under a variety of trade names, or “banners” including A&P, Waldbaum’s, SuperFresh, Pathmark, Food Basics, The Food Emporium, Best Cellars and A&P Liquors.

29. During the ninety days immediately preceding the Petition Date (“Preference Period”), GAPT made payments to the Preference Defendants for goods and/or services previously provided to the Debtors pursuant to invoices or statements submitted by the Preference Defendants to GAPT (collectively, “Transfers”).

30. The Transfers were made to or for the benefit of the Preference Defendants in at least the amounts set forth below:

Entity	Preference Payments
Frito Lay	$13,376,141
Pepsi Hasbrouck	$4,930,368
Pepsi Metro	$911,738
Pepsi Bottling	$103,920
Pepsi Pennsauk	$30,303
TOTAL:	$19,352,470

31. The aggregate amount of the Transfers is not less than $19,352,470, and the Preference Defendants, subject to any defenses, offsets or credits to which the Preference Defendants show themselves entitled.

32. The Debtors making the Transfers were insolvent at the time each of the Transfers was made.

33. As of the Petition Date, a liquidation of the Debtors' assets under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code would not have generated sufficient proceeds to satisfy the secured claims against the Debtors. Consequently, receipt of the Transfers allowed the Preference Defendants to receive a distribution greater than they would have received pursuant to the priorities set forth for a Chapter 7 liquidation of the Debtors' estates if the Transfers had not been made.

34. During the Preference Period, commencing on or about May 4, 2015, the Preference Defendants took aggressive collection actions with respect to the Debtors, particularly by tightening credit terms. Between May 4, 2015 and the Petition Date, each of the Preference Defendants tightened the Debtors' credit terms on at least two occasions.

35. Initially, the Preference Defendants reduced the Debtors' credit terms from 26 days to between 12 and 15 days. Between May 15, 2015 and June 25, 2015, the Preference Defendants advised the Defendants of their intent to further reduce credit terms. By June 25, 2015, all of the Preference Defendants had reduced the Debtors' credit terms to 5 days.

36. The tightening of the Debtors' credit terms had its intended effect. Between May 4, 2015 and the Petition Date, the average time between the date of invoice and payment decreased significantly. With the exception of a few outlier invoices and one case in which credit terms reverted to 26 days, the decrease was universally progressive.

37. The Debtors made certain payments during the Preference Period to clear up older invoices. The payments that cleared up older invoices were made in response either to actual pressure by the Preference Defendants or pressure to pay felt by the Debtors based on the tightening of credit terms.

38. Indeed, the Preference Defendants were more aggressive in their collection activities during the Preference Period than many of the Debtors' remaining creditors.

39. By letters dated December 14, 2016, the Committee sent advance demand letters to each of Defendants Frito-Lay, Pepsi Metro, Pepsi Hasbrouck, Pepsi Bottling and Pepsi Pennsauk inviting an exchange of information regarding any potential defenses. The parties were unable to reach any resolution of the validity of the expenses.

C. Facts Generally Relevant to the Debtors' Accounts Receivable or Promotional Claims against the Promotion Defendants.

40. At various times GAPT entered into agreements (collectively, "Promotional Agreements") with one or more of the Promotion Defendants pursuant to which the Promotion Defendant counter-party or counter-parties would run promotions (collectively, "Promotions") at GAPT's stores.

41. On information and belief, any Promotional Agreements between GAPT and any of the Promotion Defendants that had been signed by GAPT had expired by the end of 2010.

42. Even after the expiration of the written Promotional Agreements referenced above, the Promotion Defendants continued to run Promotions at GAPT's stores between December 24, 2010 and the date the last of the GAPT stores were closed in 2015.

43. In particular, Defendant Frito-Lay, which had developed new products, continued to actively run Promotions at the GAPT stores until the final stores were closed. Indeed, GAPT's post-petition claims against Defendant Frito-Lay that arise out of Promotions approximate $3.1 million and constitute the largest portion of GAPT's claims arising out of post-petition Promotions.

44. During the years from 2011 through 2016, the Promotion Defendants made payments aggregating approximately $211,597,000 to GAPT for participating in Promotions as follows:

- a. 2011: $46,170,000
- b. 2012: $50,494,000
- c. 2013: $44,764,000
- d. 2014: $44,384,000
- e. 2015: $25,732,000
- f. 2016: $53,000

45. From and after December 24, 2010, Promotion transactions between GAPT and the Promotion Defendants were evidenced and memorialized by Deal Sheets, Deal Histories, Invoices and Account Reports (collectively, "Transaction Documents").

46. At all times following December 24, 2010, Promotions were initiated by the applicable Promotion Defendant. The initiating Promotion Defendant made an offer electronically to GAPT through a third party, Demandtec, to run a Promotion. GAPT would decide whether to accept the offer. If GAPT accepted the offer, it would do so electronically and Demandtec would record the time and date of offer and acceptance on the applicable Deal Sheet. The offer and acceptance were authenticated via electronic signatures on the applicable Deal Sheets.

47. The Transaction Documents set forth the basis for calculating the amount GAPT would be paid for participating in the Promotion. Within a week or month after the completion of a Promotion, GAPT would invoice the applicable Promotion Defendant for the Promotion.

48. The Promotions contemplated and required GAPT personnel to take certain actions, including: (i) store set-up; (ii) arranging for advertising; (iii) ensuring that sufficient product was stocked at each store participating in the Promotion; and (iv) arranging with the applicable Promotion Defendant to deliver sufficient product to fill shelves and endcaps.

49. The Promotions also contemplated and required GAPT to incur certain out-of-pocket expenses, including: (i) advertising expenses; (ii) expenses incurred in positioning product; and (iii) the loss of margin resulting from discounting prices in connection with a Promotion.

50. The Promotions also contemplated and required GAPT to bear the initial expense of providing the customer with the benefit of a Promotion. If a reduction in price was required, GAPT would reduce the price charged. The Transaction Documents provided for the applicable Promotion Defendant to reimburse GAPT for the price reduction.

51. At no time before December, 2015, did any of the Promotion Defendants advise GAPT that they would not pay for Promotions.

52. At no time before January, 2016 did any of the Promotion Defendants advise GAPT that they did not consider themselves obligated to pay for any completed Promotions.

53. The Promotion Defendants continued to pay for Promotions they ran at GAPT's stores as late as January 28, 2016. In many cases Promotions were paid for by offsetting GAPT's claims arising out of Promotion against their payables to the applicable Promotion Defendant. By way of example, Defendant Frito-Lay made its last “payment” for a Promotion through such an offset, in the amount of $115,235.00 on November 19, 2015.

54. Between them, the Promotion Defendants currently owe GAPT the aggregate sum of $7,416,804.92 for Promotions conducted at GAPT’s stores, most of which were conducted in 2014 and 2015.

Each of the Transfers to Defendant Frito-Lay enabled Defendant Frito-Lay to receive more than Defendant Frito-Lay would have received if (i) the Transfers to Defendant Frito-Lay had not been made, and (ii) Defendant Frito-Lay received payment on account of the debt paid by each of the Transfers to the extent provided by the Bankruptcy Code.

63. The Transfers to Defendant Frito-Lay were made in response to aggressive collection methods taken by Defendant Frito-Lay.

64. As of the date hereof, Defendant Frito-Lay has not returned to GAPT any of the Transfers it received from GAPT during the Preference Period.

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 550(a), the extent that a Transfer is avoided under 11 U.S.C. § 547, the Committee may recover for the benefit of the GAPT bankruptcy estate, the property transferred or the value of such property from (a) the initial transferee of such transfer or the entity for whose benefit such transfer was made or (b) any immediate or mediate transferee of such initial transferee.

68. Defendant Frito-Lay is either (a) the initial transferee of the Transfers made to it during the Preference Period, (b) the entity for whose benefit said Transfers were made, or (c) an immediate or mediate transferee of the original transferee.

72. Each of the Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Metro constituted a transfer of property of GAPT.

73. Each of the Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Metro was made to or for the benefit of Defendant Pepsi Metro (and, therefore, on information and belief, to either or both of Defendants PepsiCo and Bottling Group).

74. Defendant Pepsi Metro (and, therefore, on information and belief, to either or both of Defendants PepsiCo and Bottling Group) was a creditor of GAPT within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. § 110(10) at the time of each of the Transfers made to Defendant Pepsi Metro were made or, alternatively, received the Transfers to it for the benefit of a creditor or creditors of GAPT.

75. Each of the Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Metro was made on account of an antecedent debt owed by GAPT to Defendant Pepsi Metro (and, therefore, on information and belief, to either or both of Defendants PepsiCo and Bottling Group) before the Transfer was made.

76. Each of the Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Metro was made while the GAPT Debtor making the Transfer was insolvent. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 547(f), all of the GAPT Debtors are deemed to have been insolvent throughout the Preference Period.

77. Each of the Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Metro enabled Defendant Pepsi Metro to receive more than Defendant Pepsi Metro (and, therefore, on information and belief, to either or both of Defendants PepsiCo and Bottling Group) would have received if (i) the Transfers to Pepsi Metro had not been made, and (ii) Defendant Pepsi Metro received payment on account of the debt paid by each of the Transfers to the extent provided by the Bankruptcy Code.

78. The Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Metro were made in response to aggressive collection methods taken by Defendant Pepsi Metro (and, therefore, on information and belief, to either or both of Defendants PepsiCo and Bottling Group).

84. Subject to Defendant Pepsi Metro's potential defenses, GAPT is entitled to recover from Defendant Pepsi Metro (and, therefore, on information and belief, from either or both of Defendants PepsiCo and Bottling Group) on behalf of GAPT the value of the Transfers made to Defendant Pepsi Metro during the Preference Period pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 550(a).

AS AND FOR A FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

As to Defendants Pepsi Hasbrouck, PepsiCo, Pepsi Metro and Bottling Group)

86. On information and belief, Pepsi Hasbrouck is not a separate legal entity but a division or operating location of either Defendant Pepsi Metro, Defendant PepsiCo or Defendant Bottling Group. Accordingly, any of the Transfers made by the Debtors to Defendant Pepsi Hasbrouck during the Preference Period constitute Transfers to any or all of Defendant Pepsi Metro, Defendant PepsiCo and Defendant Bottling Group.

87. During the Preference Period, GAPT made Transfers to Defendant Pepsi Hasbrouck and, therefore, also to any or all of Defendant Pepsi Metro, Defendant PepsiCo and Defendant Bottling Group in an amount not less than $4,930,368.00.

Defendant Pepsi Metro, Defendant PepsiCo and Defendant Bottling Group) before the Transfer was made.

335. Subsequently, after they had discontinued the majority of their active operations, on or about February 16, 2016, the Debtors and Pepsi entered into a Post-Petition Deposit and Payable Resolution Agreement ("Deposit Resolution Agreement") pursuant to which the Debtors and Pepsi reconciled the amounts due for sales of beverage products and snack products and provided for the return to the Debtors of the unused portion of the Security Deposit.

336. The Deposit Resolution Agreement authorized Pepsi to apply a total of $188,429.18 ("Deposit Return Payment") from the Security Deposit to the satisfaction of amounts due from the Debtors for post-petition sales of beverage products and snack products through February 6, 2016.

337. The Deposit Resolution Agreement also directed Pepsi to refund $2,159,438.51 from the Security Deposit to the Debtors. Pepsi did, in fact, refund that sum to the Debtors.

338. The Deposit Resolution Agreement also provided for the holdback by Pepsi of the sum of $8,646.31 (“Holdback Amount”) from the Security Deposit to secure the payment of any additional post-petition purchase of beverage products and branded snacks by the Debtors.

339. Pepsi expressly acknowledged in the Deposit Resolution Agreement that, except for the Deposit Return Payment and the Holdback Amount, it was not owed any additional amounts by the Debtors for post-petition purchases of beverage products and branded snacks.

340. There were no additional post-petition purchases of beverage products or branded snacks to which the Holdback Amount could be applied, and, for that reason the Debtors are entitled to refund by Pepsi of the Holdback amount.

341. The Debtors have demanded that Pepsi refund the Holdback Amount, but Pepsi has failed and refused to refund the Holdback Amount.

342. GAPT is, therefore, entitled to recover a sum in the amount of the Holdback Amount from Pepsi.

343. During the course of this action, the Committee may learn through discovery or otherwise of additional preferential Transfers made to the Preference Defendants during the preference that were unknown to GAPT as of the date of this Adversary Complaint (the “Additional Transfers”)
